Jonathon,

I can confirm that that the case control study referenced under point 2 is indeed the independent epidemiology study. The team felt there was not unified agreement to the study from the Stakeholders members; enabling actions should be continued and a draft protocol produced (following the meeting at the end of Feb in the USA) which would then be taken back to the Stakeholders for consideration.

Regards,

Dave

CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION

Dave,

Alan has now forwarded to you and Martin my comments . On the basis that the reference to the Widnes cohort study is removed, I think the only remaining question is as to the timing of a decision on the case control study . I assume (but would appreciate confirmation) that this corresponds to the independent epidemiology study which Alan and I strongly recommended should be undertaken as opposed to a simple expert review of the published literature .

Regards,

Jonathan .

No - I haven't seen your or Alan's comments. I had a word with Martin who advised removing ref to Widnes and issue.
I am in work tomorrow am, so if you or Alan send me commenys I will recall the previous note and resend.

Dave,
Did Alan Nadel provide to you his and my comments on the draft which you sent to me yesterday and are they incorporated in the version which you circulated ?

Jonathan .
